July 4th, 1776

No story is more romantic than the history of the growth and development of our Republic. A true Patriot need only to read the record to feel his heart beat faster, stirred by an honorable pride. From thirteen thinly settled states, united in the struggle for freedom, loyal to a newly written Constitution, our Nation has grown to be one of the greatest, strongest, more far-reaching nations on earth; a human marvel and a social wonder. Never has there been such a flowing together of peoples, such a blending of bloods, as in America; it is a fraternal achievement in which many races and many faces mingled to build a free and gentle country.

Among the creative forces by which America has been made so great are undoubtedly the influences of Freemasonry. The history of Masonry in America is likened to the genius of poetry, and its story an epic. Silent, ever-present, always active, by its constructive genius our Fraternity built itself into the very foundations of the Republic. When our fathers affirmed that Governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed, Masonry was present assenting to one of its own principles. What patriotic memories cluster about old Green Dragon Tavern in Boston! Called it the headquarters of the Revolution, as well as the headquarters of Freemasonry, it's where the Boston Tea Party was planned.

As in Massachusetts, as throughout the Colonies, Masonry was everywhere active on behalf of a nation conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. It was not by accident that so many Masons signed the Declaration of Independence, or that Washington and most of his Generals were members of the Craft. Nor was it by mere chance that our first President was a Mason, sworn into office on a Bible taken from a Masonic Altar, by the Grand Master of New York.

As Freemasons we believe that the things that made our Republic great in the past are the things that will make it still greater in the future. A great Englishman once asked, what made America great? Not its rich resources, he said, other lands - Russia, for example - are equally rich. Nor is it intelligence and enterprise of our people, because others are also intelligent. No, what has made America great, he said, is its form of government. If ever, of any men, it can be said that our fathers were divinely taught and divinely led when they instituted our form of government, in which individual initiative is united with social responsibility - liberty under law, liberty founded in right and reason, modified by private duty, public obligation, and a sense of the common good.

So, once more, in memory of our national birthday, as Freemasons we ask all Americans of every race, creed, and condition to renew their vows of love, honor, and loyalty to our Constitution, our President and our flag, which is the immortal symbol of all that is sacred in our life, law, and history. We ask all to join hands and hearts on behalf of a greater America tomorrow, worthy of the mighty America of the past to which, like the men who signed the Declaration of Independence, We Mutually Pledge to Each Other our Lives, Fortunes and Sacred Honor.

From The East

We've hit the half-way point in the year and as I look back over the past six months I am very proud of the many things we have accomplished.

Hats off to everyone who played a part in our success. I am truly thankful for each and every one of you! Our Stated and called communications have been wonderfully attended. Our Ritual has been outstanding. Our breakfasts have been a big hit. Other events and programs have been greatly supported! Proving once again that Kempsville Lodge is a great place to be!

As we look ahead to the coming months the trestle board is full. We have plenty of degree work scheduled, fraternal visits planned, and an action packed lodge school to keep us busy. Plug in when and where you can.

I am excited to announce that our guest speaker for the July Stated Communication is Brother Dave Strohsahl from Virginia Beach Lodge. He will speak on our first President and Masonic Brother, George Washington. We will also recognize Dallas Stamper, Executive Director of PiN Ministry, with the Community Builder's Award for his work in serving the homeless in Virginia Beach. It will be a great night. Get your Masonic Passports dusted off as we will make a fraternal visit to Hall Lodge No. 53 in Shawboro, North Carolina. I have been told the food is awesome. If you haven't witnessed North Carolina ritual this is your chance!

Lastly, Brethren, I want to address our elevator fundraiser. Thank you to those who have donated or pledged a donation for this important cause. It is greatly appreciated. I regret to report that we are not even half way in reaching our goal. To make matters worse, the donations have slowed greatly. I think everyone agrees that this is an important project. I ask that you consider supporting this project and make a donation or pledge in July so that we can get back on track. Hope to see you in lodge soon!

Brother Chris Anders, Worshipful Master

From The West

One of the several responsibilities of the Senior Warden is to pay the craft their wages... which I personally consider a privilege. In order for a brother to receive his wages, he must attend lodge. That could be as part of a called meeting or a stated communication. The wages a brother receives is unique for each brother so its impossible to compare one's wages to another. As Senior Warden I feel honored to perform this task but truth be known, every brother has the ability and privilege to pay wages to any and/or every brother he so desires.

Brother Roger Taylor, Senior Warden

From The South

It has been another very busy and very productive month here at Kempsville. We conducted our first Lodge spring cleaning, held another well-attended Saturday-morning breakfast and our annual Bull Roast, and raised two brothers to the sublime degree of Master Mason. Our Hawaiian shirt night for the June Stated was a big hit. Special congratulations to Worshipful Jimmy Wilder, our Past Master from 1986, for once again winning the Mystic Golden Pineapple Award for the best Hawaiian shirt! I would like to personally thank everyone who came out to help with all of these events, including our own Eastern Star ladies, DeMolays, and Jobies.

The greatest reward I have as an Officer of this Lodge is to see all of our events well attended by our brothers and their families and everyone having a good time. I appreciate all of the positive comments that we have received from members and visitors alike – that is the best reward any of us could ask for our labors. I would strongly encourage those of our brothers who may have not been to the Lodge in a while to come out and join us.

Brother Dave Trzeciakiewicz, Junior Warden

The Finer Points

If a Lodge member believes that he has good cause to object to something that is occurring, or believes that something said or done wrongs himself or another, or questions the appropriateness or legality of something said or done; there is a specific way that rules of Masonic etiquette and the practice of decorum would have him act:

- He rises, salutes the Master, and patiently waits until the Master recognizes him.
- He states his objection, criticism, etc., in as few words as possible.
- He salutes smartly and is seated.
- The Master makes a reply or takes action.
- The proceedings are resumed.

In any event it is not for the member himself to decide or to take action, for that responsibility belongs to the Master. He merely states his objection and does not elaborate or discuss it, unless requested to do so by the Master. The member himself is finished with the episode when he has spoken and re-seated.

It is essential to exhibit a gentlemanly behavior at all times, especially during Lodge activities. If you disagree with the Master's decision, you may appeal the action by elevating it, in writing, through the District Deputy Grand Master to the Grand Master.

Mike Denning, Senior Deacon
